I loved you already

      E                                  Cism
1.    I saw you walking by a thousand times
        E                                Cism
      It must have been love at first sight
          A                      H7
      The way you move, the way you shine
      E                          Cism              H7
      I started to dream of you every night but then

2.    I never talked to you or dropped a line
      Afraid you you'd ignore a guy like me
      Then I no longer wanted to hide behind
      And I opened my heart like one, two, three but then

      E                                                Cism
Ch.   I loved you already, long before I let you know.
        E                                          Cism
      I loved you already, but was afraid to show.
         A                H7              E              Cism
      My heart loved you long ago – before I let you know
          A                H7                    E        Cism   E       Cism
      But finally I had the courage to let you know

      A              H7       E                Cism
Br.   How could I ever go on not telling you
      A                       H7              E
      About my feelings down deep inside
```
